Week 9 Principal's Highlights

A short week after our Eid Al Fitr break, was great hear of your time with families and being in the moment with your loved ones. It's important that we cherish this time and never take it for granted. Today we raised awareness for Downs Syndrome Day by wearing mismatched & colourful socks, a fun way to celebrate inclusion, a fundamental part of AIS!

AIS Jakarta PnF and SRC Buka Puasa Event

On Friday 13 March we had our PnF & SRC Buka Puasa just before our break. It was an outstanding event, full of respect and celebration. I would like to thank the SRC and our PnF for special community event.

Parent College – From There to Here (with Ms Sinead Smith)

This morning we have had our final Term 1 Parent College, with Ms Sinead. Thanks for attending, it was an excellent summary of what our expat students truly experience, the challenges and the highlights that will stay with our young people as they journey through the rest of their lives.

Please note – we have our Harmony & Autism Awareness Day on next Thursday, the final day of Term 1. All community members (yes including parents!) should wear Orange to support and celebrate Harmony and cultural diversity and Blue to support Autism Awareness.

Harmony means embracing each person for who they are. On Harmony Day and World Autism Awareness Day, we celebrate the unique strengths, perspectives, and voices that make our AIS community stronger. Inclusion is not just a value. It is what we practice every day. The AIS community is encouraged to wear blue, orange, or a combination of both blue and orange on April 2nd to raise awareness and promote acceptance of autism and cultural diversity.
